International Journal of Fracture

CONTENTS OF VOLUME 82 (1996)

Vol. 82, No. 1, 1996

Foreword		v
Microcrack initiation at tip of a rigid line inhomogeneity	Z.M. XIAO and H. FAN	1–9
The fiber-matrix interface crack – A numerical analysis using Boundary Elements	F. PARÍS, J.C. CAÑO and J. VARNA	11–29
The immersed fatigue response of polymer composites	L.V. SMITH and Y.J. WEITSMAN	31–42
A study of fatigue crack closure by elastic-plastic finite element analysis for constant-amplitude loading	J. WU and F. ELLYIN	43–65
Numerical modeling of ductile crack growth in 3-D using computational cell elements	C. RUGGIERI, T.L. PANONTIN and R.H. DODDS, Jr.	67–95

Vol. 82, No. 2, 1996

Quasi-statically steady crack growth in rate dependent solids–one-parameter field encompassing different constraints	L. XIA and L. CHENG	97–114
Assessment of notched tubular ferritic oxide-dispersion-strengthened components subjected to multiaxial creep loading at 1100°C	M. REES, J.C. HEALY, R.C. HURST and J.D. PARKER	115–129
Stress intensity factors for an interface crack along an elliptical inclusion	DAI-HENG CHEN and SEIJI NAKAMICHI	131–152
Experimental and numerical studies in model composites. Part I: Experimental results	D. ZHAO and J. BOTSIS	153–174
Experimental and numerical studies in model composites. Part II: Numerical results	C. BELDICA and J. BOTSIS	175–192

Vol. 82, No. 3, 1996

Integral estimates to the fast brittle fracture mechanics	A.G. KOTOUSOV	193–203

Morphological aspects of fatigue crack propagation. Part I – Computational procedure	Y. SUMI, CHEN YANG and S. HAYASHI	205–220
Morphological aspects of fatigue crack propagation. Part II – Effects of stress biaxiality and welding residual stress	Y. SUMI, CHEN YANG and Z.N. WANG	221–235
On singular stress at the crack tip of a thick plate under in-plane loading	X.M. SU and C.T. SUN	237–252
Strengthening of concrete prisms using the plate-bonding technique	BJÖRN TÄLJSTEN	253–266
Interaction of newly defined stress intensity factors for angular corners in a row of diamond-shaped inclusions	NAO-AKI NODA, YUUJI KAWASHIMA, SHINYA MORIYAMA and KAZUHIRO ODA	267–295

Vol. 82, No. 4, 1996

Fracture statistics applied to modelling the non-linear stress-strain behavior in microcomposites: Influence of interfacial parameters	L. GUILLAUMAT and J. LAMON	297–316
The effect of residual stresses on brittle and ductile fracture initiation predicted by micromechanical models	T.L. PANONTIN and M.R. HILL	317–333
On the penny-shaped crack in a non-homogeneous interlayer under torsion	WANG XUYUE, ZOU ZHENZHU and WANG DUO	335–343
Transient response of a finite crack subjected to dynamic anti-plane loading	YI-SHYONG ING and CHIEN-CHING MA	345–362
On the elastic T-term of a main crack induced by near tip microcracks	LI GUO ZHAO and YI HENG CHEN	363–379
Analysis of a crack in a disclinated cylinder	MAO S. WU and HONG ZHOU	381–399
